

West Suburban Early Music Society

A Chapter of the American Recorder Society

Meeting Format

Diverse Chapter Membership

The WSEMS Chapter as a group encompasses a wide variety of playing levels from Beginner to Advanced, as well as ages from the teens to the '80s. They meet together monthly to explore new music and practice pieces they may plan to perform for their Winter and Spring Concerts. Usually under the direction of Laura Kuhlman, other group members have stepped up into the conducting mode on a regular basis. Members are encouraged to bring copies of music to share during the group playing time. In addition to recorders, the group also ventures into pieces using percussion, reeds and other instruments. This affable group welcomes all players into their fold readily. If you are looking for a group of actively involved Early Music enthusiasts in the Western Suburbs, please contact one of the officers for further information.
